Democracy—Progress Backward.

A minute inquiry into the course pursued by the "Democracy" ever since 1861, will dispel any lingering delusion about the boasted immutability of the principles of that party. It would be impossible to follow it through all its mutations or to trace out all the sinuosities of its erratic course—unless one, indeed, had three years in which to write its history. For the purpose, however, of showing that "democracy" is not unchangeable but progressive—though it must be admitted regretfully that its progress has been backwards—a less than exhaustive review of the measures it has advocated and the position it has assumed, will easily suffice.

The distance between patriotism and treason is immeasurable, but such has been the energy and adroitness of "democratic" politicians that they have in a short time converted the mass of those constituting that party, from well-meaning supporters of their government into foolish partisans and wicked patricides. Under the direction of party leaders these misguided men have come to regard with complacency, the permanent severance of the United States—a proposition which they regarded, at the opening of the war, as shocking and monstrous. Let us briefly examine the manner in which the party has been led unconsciously into treason and betrayed into the service of the rebellion.

When the forbearance of the government had not sufficed to avert the war, the loyal portion of our people sprang to arms to uphold the national authority. The men who now lead and give character to the "democratic" party, fell in with the popular current for the reason that they knew they could not then hope to oppose it, and in some instances, became ardent advocates of the war for the Union. But their patriotism was feigned; they assumed a virtue they did not possess; they were then, as now, men of traitorous instincts, and though before the unprovoked attack on Fort Sumter, they gave vent to a vast deal of ridiculous babble about "the want of power in the government to coerce a sovereign State;" yet when that event occurred, they had discretion enough to know that they could not maintain their treasonable dogmas in the face of the great popular enthusiasm which then existed. Accordingly, some became the temporary champions of the government, and others finding they could not make their suicidal policy prevail, slunk away, for a time, into obscurity, and were forgotten.

But though these heads of the party made no immediate figure in politics, they were by no means idle. They so managed it that the spirit which actuated themselves was insinuated into every part of the country and into every official department. The people and the army wanted to take Richmond in the fall of 1861, and nothing but the "conservatism" of "Democratic" politicians and the timidity and irresolution of McClellan, prevented that result from being accomplished; so, through their interference passed one opportunity for finishing the rebellion. The autumn wore away and nothing was attempted against the enemy, and when Spring came and the now disgraced leader of the "Democratic" party was obliged to move, he did so, slowly and with reluctance, intent only on inactivity, and proceeding just as if the whole remaining part of the nineteenth century was to be employed in his work. McClellan had already fallen in the hands of wily politicians, and they were using him as their tool.

Under the direction of McClellan, the Virginia campaign was a humiliating failure. Beaten by a much smaller force than his own, he suffered during the terrible "Seven Days," the slow moving [illegible] McClellan and the insubordination of his officers, Pope was also beaten at Manassas. The enemy was afterwards driven from Maryland, but Antietam, that should have crushed Lee, was a barren victory. These failures, caused solely by McClellan and his "democratic" advisers, were charged against the President. The elections of that year (1862) were, in consequence, carried generally for the "democracy," and let it be remembered that the issue they made was that the war had been too feebly conducted by the Administration, and THEY were in favor of its more vigorous prosecution. A comparison of the warlike position the party held then, with the cowardly peace doctrine enunciated at Chicago, will show that "democracy" is not only a changeling, but that it rivals even Proteus in the facility with which it puts off and re-assumes its native form. In 1862, the masses of those who voted with the "democracy" were too loyal to support any proposition which bordered on treason or which contemplated the separation of the Union; while in 1864, they make the issue solely in favor of "peace," and announce themselves ready to surrender what they contended for, two years before.

In the political contest of 1863, the "Democracy" did not triumph. The people knew by proof that that party was faithless and untrustworthy. Only the year before, the party had advocated war. The men whom it had elevated to office did the precise opposite of what they were pledged to do. The people could not so soon, be again led astray. It is to be remarked too, that the voice of the leaders, which had, the previous year, been for war, was in 1863, materially softened. The old party fuglemen—traitors in disguise—were engaged in getting the "Democracy" into shape so that they could all stand together upon the spiritless peace platform at Chicago. To Chicago they all went flocking—the betrayers and betrayed—and the last expiring spark of patriotism that warmed any portion of the party, was extinguished by the managers of the Convention. It is notorious that the men who wail for "peace at any price" considered their triumph at the convention complete. They congratulated themselves in that the "Democratic" party, which had for a time sustained the insane policy of the war for the Union, had been forced to recant that heresy, and that it is now committed, without reserve or qualification, to the doctrine of "Peace." "Peace" means the Independence of the South. The thought of granting that independence, intends treason to our Government. And since "Democracy" would have peace even by separation, "Democracy" is disloyalty.

A little attention to the different positions the "Democracy" has occupied, thus shows that the party is not quite changeless. It is in all respects a progressive party—but its progress is backwards. The masses that vote with it, have been led from loyalty into treason—transformed from sober orderly citizens, into factious partizans. May the Republic live, notwithstanding the shameful defection of so many of its sons!

FROM THE CAPITAL.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE DAILY OREGONIAN.]

SALEM, Oct. 25, 1864.

During the last hours of the session the Committee on Federal Relations of the House reported upon the resolutions referred to them, on the state of the Union. Dr. Bowlby, the chairman, represented that they had well considered the different sets proposed, and had endeavored to incorporate something of each in the ones reported by the committee, even including some of the sentiments expressed in those offered by the gentleman from Umatilla, Mr. Lane. The resolutions proposed are lengthy, a considerable part derived from the National Platform adopted at Baltimore, and are of course a strong expression of attachment to the Union, support the administration and faith in President Lincoln; favoring an amendment to the Constitution that shall secure the abolition of slavery, and concluding with a most appropriate acknowledgment of our obligations to, and confidence in the armies that are bearing the brunt of the conflict.

The forty days of the session expired on Friday, but it was impossible to complete the proper enrollment of bills on that day and wind up affairs generally, therefore a joint resolution was adopted to adjourn on Saturday noon, though many believed no quorum would be present on that day; however, Saturday at 8 o'clock found just enough remaining to transact business, and everything was wound up that was on the calendar; sometimes wound up in a hurry, laid on the table or indefinitely postponed, and sometimes voted down by decided times; but everything of general interest and importance, save a law relating to public schools, was passed. The school law was an important measure, but was not satisfactory in every respect, and the Senate refused to pass it, after it had been put through the House. Saturday morning, while the Enrolling Clerks were putting the finishing touches on some long bills, some of the more jolly members of the House indulged in motions and resolutions that included a variety of objects and range of thought seldom reached in legislative proceedings. Mr. Murphy of Marion was in his element. Murphy is a wag, and moved to compliment the reporters for the many splendid speeches recorded in the papers, but which he never remembered to have heard upon the floor. He indulged in a humorsome speech, treating upon the variety and inconsistency of measures proposed by different members: bills to prevent certain [illegible] stock running at large; to prevent Indians and half breeds who are running at large. One passed the Senate, the other passed the House; and Mr. Murphy here congratulated his fellow-members of the House, that they had been able to retaliate on the Senate for "killing our male stock, by being the death of their buck Indians." His constituents could not read and write (which is based on the fact that he represents French Prairie and its half breed and Canadian population) and he had opposed the homestead exemption bill, because it might secure them permanent homes and obviate the necessity of their emigration; and so he moved that some of the humorous motions. A resolution should be printed in Chinook for their especial benefit.

Mr. Moores answered that it needed no greater proof of the ignorance of the gentlemen's constituents than the fact that they had sent him here, but he opposed the motion to print on general principles.

Mr. Murphy introduced a resolution expressive of appreciation of the eminent services rendered by the "third house," moulding the important measures of the session, hoping that should they fail to find meet reward for their eminent services here that when they leave this "subluminary sphear" they may find full reward for all their kind and affectionate solicitude.

Mr. Underwood moved to print 100 copies: 50 of them to be sent down to Dr. Loryea.

The Speaker put the motion that 100 copies be printed at the expense of the mover, which carried unanimously.

Mr. Lawson made reports from the third house, and lent his genius to aid the sport of the hour; moved that the thanks of the House be given to Mr. Lafollet for his interesting lectures on phrenology, furnished during the session; offered a vote of censure to Mr. Speaker's big "dorg" who was making himself rather fresh during the latter days of the session.

Mr. Otey, of Douglas, rose to a question of privilege. While his relatives were numerous, and his connexion large, he wished it understood that he was no relation to Mr. Ky-Otey (Cayote), who lived upon the prairies.

Numberless other good things were said and done too numerous to mention. Mr. Speaker was busy signing bills, and the enrolling pens were fast at work; all the while that the House, laying aside its dignity, was having a good time generally, and sometimes hitting hard licks in a friendly way; but finally the appointed hour of twelve drew near; the last pen strokes to finish a memorable session were put on paper, and with a few well said, earnest and graceful words of appreciation and remembrance of the kindness and consideration extended to him, and a short but expressive farewell, the Speaker announced that the third regular session of the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon was at a close, and that the House was adjourned sine die. The Senate at the same time was having the closing address of President Mitchell. The Senate is more sedate by nature than the House, and had been laughing at the vagaries of the lower branch, instead of indulging in the humors that might have been found at home. The several presiding officers have performed their arduous duties with courtesy and with considerable of parliamentary skill.

It is to be hoped that another Legislature will understand that it takes at least a good penman and a good reader to make a good Chief Clerk. Gentlemen very frequently place their friends in false positions by urging their claims and giving them their support for offices that could otherwise be much better filled. The Enrollment of Acts has been very beautifully done by two young gentlemen, that by accident happened to be accomplished. It is to be hoped their successors will be equally qualified, though it will be an accident if they are. While I am under more or less obligation to all the officers, even if I criticise them, I am peculiarly indebted for many acts of kindness by Mr. E. L. Fisher, Sergeant-at-Arms of the House.

AFFAIRS DOWN THE COAST.

I learn from Mr. Brown of the Indian Department, who has just returned from Acquina Bay, that a schooner belonging to Capt. Hillyer was wrecked in going out of there a few days since. There was very little wind, not enough to enable the vessel to keep her way, and the swell of the sea took the schooner on the rocks. The crew were all saved, but the vessel was a total loss. Her cargo of oysters was valued at $9,000. This Capt. Hillyer is in an imbroglio with the Indian Department, that has forbidden his trespassing on the shores of the bay as being on the Indian Reservation, and a suit is pending in Benton County, that will be decided in the Circuit Court next month, and will determine the question of his right or his trespass.

The Indian Department has given Captain Dodge the privilege of planting oysters, for which he pays some considerable amount, for the benefit of the Indians, and carries on the business on a large scale. At present Capt. Dodge is under arrest at the charge of Hillyer, and the latter is probably under arrest again at the charge of Agent Simpson, who seems to find more trouble from the oystermen of Acquina Bay than from the Indians on the Siletz Reservation.

Capt. Hillyer seems to be a litigious customer; disposed to defy the military and Indian Departments, and pursues the oyster trade with [illegible] respect to either, but finds his match in "Agent" Simpson.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—The President recommends Thursday, the 24th day of November, [illegible] as a day of thanksgiving and prayer [illegible] the States generally.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to October 24.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Private telegrams [illegible] Saturday at 212. Legal Tenders to-day at [illegible].

The Commercial telegraph was interrupted last evening between Austin and Salt Lake. The [illegible] relating to the skirmishing which preceded the battle on the western border of Missouri, was [illegible] the Creek [illegible]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.—It was Fagan's Division which had the fight with Blunt on the Little Blue, on the 22d. Blunt's object was to detain the rebels as long as possible, and he succeeded with a small force in keeping them employed nearly all day when they got into position to flank him. He then retreated to the Big Blue where Gen. Deitzler with several thousand militia and Curtis with a considerable force of veterans were in position.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—The Leavenworth papers of the 20th say: General Blunt with 2,000 cavalry entered Lexington, Missouri, on Tuesday, the 18th. On Wednesday Price attacked him with an overwhelming force and after a sharp fight drove him from the city. He fell back to the Little Blue fighting desperately.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The Herald's special dispatch says, the opinion is openly avowed by the highest military authorities here that Grant can with three hours fighting occupy Richmond; Lee's army will capitulate or hastily evacuate, which is only Grant's desire. The reasons assigned for delay is to obtain the same result without serious sacrifice of life that would attend capture by direct assault now.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Arrival from the army of the Potomac reports heavy firing heard on Saturday night towards James river—apparently from our gun-boats.

Richmond papers of the 22d acknowledge a defeat in Shenandoah valley; loss, 23 guns, besides those captured and 3,000 killed and wounded.

HALIFAX, Oct. 24.—Gunboat Jason, from Bermuda on the 17th, reports the yellow fever abating at Bermuda.

The steel blockade runner, Col. Lamb, sailed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The World's Washington special says the course of Gen. Dix, in pursuing St. Alban's bandits across the Canadian border, will be [illegible].

It is now alleged that Stanton will be offered Chief Justiceship.

Cameron, Banks, and Butler are mentioned for the War Department.

Refugees from Shenandoah valley report that notwithstanding the devastation by Sheridan, there is still an immense quantity of grain out of the track taken by our army.

A Martinsburg correspondent of the 22d reports in the battle of the 19th, our loss at 5,000 killed, wounded and missing. We lost in the morning, 24 guns. We captured 3,000 men and 50 guns. The enemy's loss, therefore, is about 10,000.

Custar has receipts for 5[illegible] guns, 5 battle flags, a number of ambulances, horses and mules. This makes fifty-one pieces of artillery captured by Custar's division within two weeks.

It is demonstrated that Longstreet was not in the valley, but Early had struck desperately to recover this district and his reputation.

Details from the Cedar Creek victory, state that Devine's brigade and the Ninth New York, pursued the rebels to Fisher's Hill, capturing 14 guns, a wagon train and slaughtering an immense number of rebels.

Gold closed Saturday evening, 209. Legal tenders, to-day, 49½.

OUR FAITHFUL REPRESENTATIVES.—The citizens of Multnomah county, and particularly those of Portland, have certainly great cause to congratulate themselves upon having been so ably and so faithfully represented in both branches of the Legislature which has just closed its session. The entire delegation have now returned to their constituents, to receive a hearty welcome of "Well done thou good and faithful servants." For our own part we feel justified in saying, that since the first organization of the State government, the interests of this community have never been better represented or more advanced during any one legislative session. In fact, matters in which we are more or less interested have occupied a good part of the session. Among other matters of local interest, Portland has secured a new city charter, which we trust will prove a great improvement on the old one. By almost unanimous vote of the Senate and House, the General Government is petitioned to consider the wants of a large majority of the people of Oregon, by the establishment of a branch Mint at Portland instead of the Dalles; also, to enlarge the boundaries of our present port of entry, so as to include Portland within its limits. The attention of Congress is also directed to the importance of securing the immense trade of the Sandwich Islands, and our Government memorialized to enter into a treaty with the Hawaiian authorities for the establishment of a reciprocal system of free trade. That all of these measures are of the utmost importance to this city and county, as well as the State at large, will be seen at a glance. To Senator Mitchell the credit of introducing the memorial on the subject of free trade with the Islands is mainly due. In a previous issue we briefly alluded to his argument in support this measure, and to-day we publish his speech in full. It will be found on our fourth page and should be read by every citizen on this coast.

ELECT LINCOLN.—Lincoln must be elected in order that the majesty of the law may be vindicated and upheld; that treason may receive salutary and condign punishment; that there may be proper reverence for [illegible] constituted authority; that the noble idea of man's capacity for self-government may be maintained; that it may be shown that a Republican Government is as powerful and indestructible as it is beneficent; that the great idea of a permanent and exalted nationality may be triumphant; and that that political principle to which every other is subordinate—the principle that all the advantages accruing from society, from government, from human associations and from human laws, belong, of right, to the individual man—may be confirmed and reach its full realization.

WHERE CALIFORNIA GOLD GOES.—Among the many other humiliations to which this nation has been subjected by the failure of our naval vessels to clear the ocean of the Florida, the Georgia and the other insignificant rebel privateers that have been praying for nearly three years upon our commerce, is the revolution that has been worked in our California gold trade. Four-fifths of the gold product of the Pacific coast is now shipped to England and to other foreign ports instead of coming to the Atlantic ports, as it did before the war. The following table will show the cause of this great revolution in the shipment of our bullion since the American flag on the sea has ceased to afford security to an American cargo.

Shipments of specie from San Francisco for the first six months of 1861, 1862, 1863 and 1864:

[illegible] how in the foregoing exhibit the shipments to New York diminished year by year, and how the exports to England swell up from [illegible] in 1861 to nearly twenty millions in 1864. ASTHMA, CROUP,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that IT IS WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM

CURES ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS AND THROAT.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 6, 1861. Messrs. A. L. Scovill & Co. Gents: I feel it a duty I owe to you to let them know the value of your Dr. William Hall's Balsam for curing of Croup. A little girl, seven years of age, had an attack of Croup, and came very near dying! I gave her Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam, as directed, which gave relief in a very short time. We have used it in cases of [illegible] with the happiest effect. Benjamin Pitkin, Eighth street, between Main and Sycamore streets. For sale by Druggists everywhere. REDINGTON & CO., Gen. AS A SPRING REMEDY, to purify and cleanse the Blood leaving it free from all humors and impurities, we [illegible]

BOILS.

WE READ THAT ONE OF the sorest afflictions that the patient Job was called upon to bear was that of boils, and they have been found to be, from that time to the present, the most troublesome and painful of visitors. We have known instances where individuals were sure to have these eruptions break out upon them once a month at least. They show an impure state of the blood, and that humor of some kind is lurking there, and the overplus of corruption is actually forced to the surface of the body, making its appearance in the form of Boils. Now, is it not best at once to purify the system? Do you ask what will do this? We answer, Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup. It is curing humors in every form, and there is not a State in the Union where it has not accomplished the most astonishing cures.

The Willamette Obstructions.—In accordance with a resolution passed at a meeting of the subscribers to the snag fund, held at the Council rooms on Monday evening, Oct. 24th, the committee appointed for the purpose of collecting the subscriptions and expending the same for the purpose intended, beg leave to report:

That the amount of subscriptions obtained by the committee was........ $9,185 00
All contributions since........ [illegible]
$9,2[illegible]
Less subscriptions not collected........ [illegible]
Total amount collected........ $9,0[illegible]
[illegible]
Amount of expenditures made as per vouchers........ $3,[illegible]
Amount on hand to be refunded........ $5,[illegible]

The balance in the hands of the committee, viz: $5,0[illegible], which is 55 per cent. of the amount raised, will, in accordance with the terms of the subscription, be paid back to the subscribers pro rata in proportion to the amounts subscribed and paid in. The subscribers will receive the same by calling upon H. C. Leonard, Secretary of the committee. The committee would now beg leave to call the attention of the subscribers, and the citizens generally, to these facts: That, although the obstructions in the channel at the mouth of the Willamette, as to snags, and sunken trees, etc., which had been suffered to remain directly in the channel until it was almost entirely closed to the passage of vessels of ordinary draft, are, for the present, removed, it is now as indispensable almost, if we would have the shipping reach our wharves, that a dredging machine be provided, and put in operation as soon as practicable. Your committee are satisfied that had the snags that have been taken up been suffered to remain as they were, the last few sailing barks which have arrived could not have reached Portland without discharging a portion of their cargoes at the mouth of the river, and are further satisfied that an efficient dredging machine would in one week remove the banks of sand that have formed in consequence of those snags, and the sand spits that are encroaching on the channel so gradually that any steamer or sailing vessel could reach our wharves without difficulty even at this low stage of the water.

Respectfully submitted,

ALEX. P. ANKENY,
H. F. SMITH,
H. C. LEONARD,
Committee.

Winter is Coming.—Yesterday was another one of those strong reminders that winter is pressing so closely upon us. The ladies appeared upon the streets in their furs and warm gloves, gentlemen in their overcoats, and fires were very agreeably appreciated in the office, giving rise to reflections as to the probabilities and improbabilities of what kind of a winter we are going to have. Outside, in the words of a cotemporary: "A hectic flush is on the leaves of the trailing vines. The green plumes of the locust are turning yellow. Dust is lying on the petals of the rose. Gray clouds sail in the sky. The Magpies keep up a fretful chattering among the boughs and in the foot-hills. The dry foliage crackles on the ground, and squirrels and birds are busy stowing away their fruits for winter. The wild geese and brant fly southward, quacking loudly. The wind begins to blow from the rainy quarter. The sun no longer sets in rosy splendor, but sinks into the gray horizon, a dull red ball." In such fine weather as the past has been farmers and fruiterers have made handsome calculations, and their anticipations for the future [illegible] is designed to favor the rustic side of [illegible], inasmuch as they have given us many varieties and forms of the simple products, by which it is calculated we may acquire in December a portion of the mellowness which we attribute to the season of October. People in Oregon, at all events, have as much dread of winter as the shivering ones in Minnesota, Iowa, and other portions of the country subjected to the frigid chills and blasts of the tyrant Boreas.

A Patriotic Inspiration.—The employees of the Oregon Iron Works in this city, with a spirit which does them credit, raised a handsome sum of money amongst themselves and invested it in the purchase of a splendid American flag, which they will throw to the breeze from the Works on Saturday next. There is no discounting the patriotism of the sturdy mechanics employed there, and we will "go our pile" on them in November next. Apropos of the flag-raising: the boys have selected a most appropriate emblem to cap their flag-staff, in a representation of a steam engine governor. The appropriateness of the "hit" will be seen when it is understood that our worthy Governor is one of the proprietors in the concern; the fact that the Governor is the controlling and regulating principle of the steam engine, and hence has a professional significance; and, being placed in connection with the flag speaks of its governing and controlling power, good for the Oregon Iron Works.

Theatrical.—The crowd in attendance at the [illegible] Theatre last night, to witness the opening by the new dramatic company of Mr. J. S. [illegible], was evidence of the zest which was felt for dramatic entertainments. The performing was excellent, and the audience highly entertained. The character of Griselda was assumed by Mrs. Julia [illegible], and we need not say it was one of the best efforts of this great actress. She was well sustained by each of the company taking part in the play. One thing only was wanting to render the whole perfect, but the obliging manager exercised the difficulty in a most satisfactory manner. [illegible] the "brother" that "Joe" left in "Pike" [illegible] years since, has arrived, the plains across, [illegible] searching for "Joe" at the Theatre. He [illegible] sparkling comic style, decidedly original. To-night a superb bill is offered, and Miss Sue Robinson will make her first appearance.

Terrible Accident.—A frightful accident occurred at the wood carving and turning shop of Mr. [illegible] in this city yesterday morning, by which one of the employees of the establishment, Mr. [illegible] Alloy, lost his left hand entirely, with the exception of the flesh on the outside from the knuckles to the wrist. He was adjusting some part of the planing machine, while it was running, when the revolving chisels struck in upon him at the points of his fingers, and almost instantly severed the hand off, up to the joint of the wrist. Dr. J. A. Chapman was called and the wound was dressed up in an excellent manner. It was a horrible sight to those who seen it, but much worse for the one who stood its torture.

Streets and Public Property.—In the faithful administration of the affairs of this city there [illegible] a committee on streets and public property. [illegible] enlightened on a subject, however, we would [illegible], who is it, this committee, the Street Commissioner, or the Mayor, that has the "say so," in the directing of the fixing up the shabby walks and streets of the city? There is much that needs the attention immediately, where people are daily and more especially nightly, running neck chances of breaking every bone in the body. We should like to know whose duty it is to prevent the whole waste of "public property," by [illegible] on the streets every day, and in our wishes on the above topics we are joined by about every tax payer in the city.

Suicide.—A man by the name of J. T. Scott was found dead in his bed yesterday morning, at a hotel in Oregon City. The Coroner, on examination, found by his bed a two ounce vial which had contained chloroform, purchased at the drug store a few days previous. He had been heard to speak of a friend or relative up the valley.

Society Notice.—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend the opening soiree of the Portland Turn Verein at their new hall, on Thursday evening. We shall be sure to be there.

Letter from the Dalles.

DALLES, OREGON, Oct. 24, 1864.

Editor Oregonian:

A fire broke out this forenoon at the garrison and burned one of the finest buildings at the post. It was occupied as quarters by several of the officers, who have suffered little or no loss, as nearly everything of a movable nature was taken out before the flames reached them. There was great apprehension of the fire being communicated to the adjacent buildings, but in result of great efforts on the part of everybody, the angry element was confined to the only one burned, though at one time a spark indeed did catch upon the commanding officer's quarters. The engine from town was up in good time but was perfectly unavailable as the water was farther from the garrison than the hose would reach. It is a little surprising that such a fine lot of buildings as those of the garrison should be exposed to the ravages of fire, when for a small outlay the water of the adjoining creek could be bountifully and constantly supplied, whereas for a number of years it has been hauled daily in a wagon drawn by six mules, which alone have already cost, more in wear and tear than would the erection of suitable water-works. Le Doyen's Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock AND IODINE ALTERATIVE is the only remedy for invigorating a debilitated and broken down constitution. Persons of a scrofulous habit, suffering from impure blood, nervous trembling, impaired digestion, liver disease, lost vitality, should give this great blood purifier a trial. All rheumatic diseases, constitutional complaints and organic affections are radically cured by a steady use of this medicine. oct[illegible]

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The stomach is the fountain head of scores of diseases which infest the human system. Indigestion, bad enough per se, generates diarrhœa, dysentery, biliousness, vertigo, palpitation of the heart, general debility, &c. Get rid of it, then, at once, by going through a course of

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,

A palatable and refreshing preparation, which as surely relieves all complaints of the stomach and its dependencies, as the sunshine melts the snow. A course of the medicine may not perhaps be necessary. One bottle frequently accomplishes a complete cure.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. oct3[illegible]

The first effect of a bilious climate upon the human system is to produce torpor and inactivity of the Liver, thereby preventing the natural and free discharge of bile. All know the malignant nature of the poison that produces Fever and Ague and its kindred diseases. A sallow complexion, capricious appetite, and occasional pain in the side, are often the only symptoms to warn of impending danger. The operation of Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue is to counteract this miasmal influence, by producing activity of the biliary organs, and a healthy discharge of bile from the system.

Guard against imitation! Be sure that you obtain Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue and you are safe. Sold everywhere. Sole Agents for the Pacific Coast.

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "slight cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.

REDINGTON & Co., San Francisco, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Dysentery.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

A Greenback Case.

HAVING been compelled to accept of Legal Tender Notes at par since the 17th day of December, 1862, for the rent of my handsome Brick Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public at large that

Jacob Mayer

Leased the building of me on the 17th day of February, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were CASH. Since the date above stated I have received the depreciated currency regularly under protest for the rent of the

CITY OF PARIS STORE,

Making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in COIN, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see what it costs to have such tenants. G. W. VAUGHN.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and strengthening. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its benign and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

[illegible] nutritious [illegible] healthy frame. Does the [illegible] stomach and a disordered liver desire [illegible] may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

WILL accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the gastric juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; energy, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vitalizing preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females,

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headaches, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which the sex they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

Free Trade with the Hawaiian Islands

SPEECH OF HON. [illegible] MITCHELL, IN THE SENATE, [illegible]

MR. PRESIDENT: Having [illegible] the [illegible] of the Senate [illegible] cast our votes [illegible] my reasons [illegible] permit me [illegible] to be accomplished [illegible] thus under discussion [illegible] representation [illegible] portance to the [illegible] generally [illegible] compatible with [illegible] the representatives [illegible] National Government [illegible] and commerce of the [illegible] States [illegible] even at this early day in their history [illegible] and appreciated by the nations with which we [illegible] counted; and the [illegible] position [illegible] expansive waters of the [illegible] with in its limits the [illegible] the most stately [illegible] of the world [illegible] form of the finest harbors [illegible] forms, is, of itself, [illegible] of that great system of trade [illegible] eventually and at an early day exist between this world and the islands of the Pacific and the great [illegible] centre of which will be the Pacific States and Territories. And as the resources of this portion of our country are being developed, while the vast empire of wealth is pouring forth its [illegible] to swell the trade and expand the commerce of the world, while our [illegible] magnificent forests [illegible] the finest timber upon which the eye of the [illegible] and in quantity [illegible] ever been destroyed by the ravages of [illegible] broad fields [illegible] agriculturist, and our fertile plains [illegible] tures are scattered [illegible] live stock, more than enough [illegible] with our mineral wealth [illegible] bids to establish the fact [illegible] ductions [illegible] on a most magnificent scale [illegible] of a lucrative [illegible] light and foster the most friendly [illegible] relations with those foreign governments which are [illegible] ly connected with us [illegible] geographical positions, whose necessities demand our articles of export and which can in turn supply such demands of this coast as must necessarily be met by foreign importations. And how singularly true that the necessary importations of the Pacific States and Territories, and those of the Sandwich Islands, can in nearly every particular, be supplied by the exports of the other. The merchant vessel sailing from the ports of Portland, San Francisco and Astoria, with her cargo of lumber, spars, shingles, staves, flour, fish, coal, and butter, with which to supply the demands of the people of the Hawaiian Government, returns in a few short weeks from the port of Honolulu bearing her cargo of sugar, molasses, syrup, coffee, pulu, paddy, rice, arrow-root, tobacco, cotton, goat-skins and tropical fruits with which to supply the necessities and swell the luxuries of the people of this coast. This fact alone, in connection with the consideration of the relative geographical positions of the two countries in a commercial point of view, is of sufficient importance to induce the people of Oregon and of this coast to, at least, pray the general government, in an earnest and respectful manner, to remove every barrier to a system of free trade between the Hawaiian Government and the Pacific States and Territories. I am aware, Mr. President, that in urging the adoption of these resolutions, I am to some extent indulging in the views and theories of the old democratic party upon the question of tariff; but however much I may differ with the democracy of the present day upon the great overshadowing question now before the American people, and upon that question I must be permitted to say that I do differ widely and emphatically, I would be false to my duty, [illegible] should stubbornly repudiate all the theories of [illegible]
